

BILL OF RIGHTS WEEK

---

DECEMBER 8 (legislative day, DECEMBER 7), 1943.—Ordered to be printed

---

Mr. VAN NUYS, from the Committee on the Judiciary, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany H. J. Res. 186]

The Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the resolution (H. J. Res. 186), to provide for the proper observance of the one hundred and fifty-second anniversary of the adoption of the first ten amendments to the Constitution, known as the Bill of Rights, having duly considered the same, now report the resolution favorably and recommend that the same be passed.

The resolution provides simply as follows:

That the President of the United States is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation designating the week of December 12 to 18, 1943, as Bill of Rights Week, calling upon officials of the Government to display the flag of the United States on all Government buildings on December 15, the actual anniversary, and inviting the people of the United States to observe the week with appropriate ceremonies and prayer.

The committee deem the objects and purposes of the resolution to be entirely appropriate, especially as related to the present war.
